

One Red Prisoner Killed As Yanks Quell Disorders

Pusan, Korea (AP)—U.S. soldier-guards yesterday stamped out a rebellion in a big Pusan prison camp, killing one Red prisoner and injuring 85 in a wild battle lasting nearly three hours.

It was the first bloody prisoner uprising on the Korean mainland. It came as the U.S. Eighth Army disclosed that two minor revolts had been squelched without bloodshed on nearby Kojima Island last week.

Kojima is the main prison camp for hard-core Communists. They staged two riots and kidnapped the camp commander recently.

Rail Unions May Accept U. S. Proposal

Washington (AP)—Three big rail unions asked yesterday for "clarification" of the White House plan for settling their labor dispute with the nation's railroads, and there were signs that the unions might accept the proposal today.

Union leaders spent about three hours conferring with John R. Steelman, the presidential assistant who worked out the contract plan.

If the plan is accepted by the Brotherhoods of Engineers, Conductors and Firemen and Engineers, their members will collect approximately 10 million dollars in retroactive wage increases.

But the unions were apparently not quite ready to take Steelman's proposals on some highly controversial working or operating rules, even though they acknowledged the proposals were better than anything offered before.

The railroads themselves snapped up the contract proposals a few hours after Steelman made them Monday. It will cost them, Steelman announced, between $600 and $1,100 in wages back to October, 1950, for each of the 150,000 workers belonging to the three unions.

Late yesterday union sources told reporters the proposal is "much better in several respects" than a contract signed by a fourth big operating union, the trainmen, a year ago but rejected by the other three unions.

Fourth Of Oil Strikers Back

Denver (AP)—Hope was expressed by a union coalition leader yesterday that most or all of 90,000 striking oil workers across the nation would be back at their jobs by the end of this week.

O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) with headquarters here, estimated that about one-fourth of the refinery and pipeline workers who walked out April 30 have returned to work.

Settlements are being made on the basis of a 15-cent hourly wage increase plus higher extra pay for night work, as proposed last week by the Wage Stabilization Board.

The pre-strike scale for day work was $2 to $2.10 per hour.

Three Sentenced For Spying On American Troops

Nuernberg, Germany (AP)—Two Czech-born Germans and a former Romanian pleaded guilty yesterday to spying for Czechoslovakia against U. S. troops in Germany.

Paul Schoenecker, 30, was sentenced by a U. S. High Commission Court to serve eight years in prison. Georg Reim, 23, received a six-year sentence. Michael Neumohr, 27, got five years.

Schoenecker and Reim claimed they were forced into spying by Czech threats against themselves and their families still in Czechoslovakia.

The three admitted gathering information about U. S. troops and intelligence activities in the area of Hof.

U. S. Withdraws From Pork Mart

Washington (AP)—The Department of Agriculture has withdrawn from the pork market after buying 26,400,000 pounds since April 6. The purpose of the purchases was to take a surplus out of trade channels and boost hog prices.

Hog prices have risen, and the department considers it unnecessary to buy additional supplies.

The pork will be donated to the government-sponsored school lunch program. Prices paid for the pork were $3 to $6.6 cents a pound for smoked hams, 39.9 to 41 cents for picnic shoulders and 37.85 to 42.3 cents for bacon.

Truman Signs Armed Forces Pay Increase

Washington (AP)—More than three million men and women in uniform got a raise yesterday when the White House announced that President Truman has signed a bill increasing military pay and allowances by 484 million dollars a year.

Everybody from buck private to five-star general gets a 4 per cent boost in base pay beginning this month.

Allowances for food and rent in the armed services go up 14 per cent.

The increases were voted by Congress to help offset higher living costs. They apply to all ranks in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps, including retired personnel.

They also extend to cadets at West Point, midshipmen at Annapolis, aviation cadets and members of the Public Health Service, the Coast Guard and the Coast and Geodetic Survey. In all, an estimated 3½ million persons are affected.

Under the new law, the raises range from $3 a month for private and seamen to $65 for two-star generals and rear admirals, the equivalent flag rank in the Navy. Most low-ranking enlisted men have no dependents and their food and lodging is furnished by the government. Consequently they will not be affected by the increase in allowances.

Montana GOP Delegates Favor Taft, 7 To 1

Helena, Mont. (AP)—Montana Republicans yesterday elected eight uninstructed delegates to their national convention but seven said they prefer Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and one said he likes Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Fred Gibson of Livingston, backer of Taft for the presidential nomination, introduced a resolution asking the convention "to urge and require the delegates to vote for the nomination of Taft."

Eisenhower supporters fought back. They forced the motion to be tabled. The convention closed with the delegation uninstructed before the motion could be resurrected.

Appropriation Voted

Washington (AP)—The House passed by voice vote and sent to the Senate yesterday a $1,413,850,000 emergency appropriation bill, most of it to foot Korean War costs. All but $12,820,000 is earmarked for the armed forces.

College Men's Lust For Lace Sweeps More Campuses As Lingerie-Raiding Fad Hits Peak

By The Associated Press
Spring madness swept another batch of college campuses Monday night, turning thousands of feverish young men into baying, brawling panty raiders.

Nearly a dozen schools witnessed riots or near-riots as the males stormed co-ed dormitories in search of sexy souvenirs. It was the biggest outbreak yet in the snowballing, weeks-old fad.

It was good clean fun in some spots. But not in Columbia, Mo., where the National Guard was called out to cope with rioting University of Missouri students.

And not at Colorado University where one youth broke his hip. The panty raids, weirdest collegiate fad since the goldfish swallowing 1930s, have been blamed by psychiatrists on everything from sex to simple-mindedness.

Some 3,000 Missouri students went wild on their own campus and then raided two nearby girls' schools, Stephens and Christian Colleges.

The four-hour rampage left many windows broken. And the students went far beyond undie snatching, reportedly looting furniture, bedding and even jewelry and money.

Panties were reported stripped from the person of at least one girl. Police said a group of girl students trapped a boy on a fire escape and stripped him of his clothes, returning his pants only after he begged for mercy.

Senate Confirms McGranery As Attorney General, 52-18

Former D. A. Repays $577 To County

Another point of dispute on the 1951 audit was cleared up yesterday when former District Attorney Detlef A. Hansen's check for $577.50 was endorsed to the county.

This brought repayments by former county officials in two days to a total of $1,923.43.

Payments made Monday were: Claude E. Metzgar, former probatory, $295.93; William Quick, former commissioner, $350; Granville Shiffer, former and present commissioner, $350.

The sum repaid by Hansen was part of his salary for 1950 and 1951.

The former district attorney left Stroudsburg Monday afternoon to attend the funeral of a relative. In his absence, disposition of the matter was made yesterday between James Kitson, county solicitor, and Grant Nitrauer, representing Hansen.

Hansen had put up the money in escrow after a discussion between him, Nitrauer, Kitson, and Commissioners Amzi F. Altomero, W. Adolph Rake and Shiffer Monday morning.

Nitrauer endorsed the check to the county yesterday morning. "The money repaid was for the overpayment (to Hansen) from March 1950 to the first Monday in January, 1952," explained Nitrauer.

"The payment of this sum was in error, being based upon the 1947 legislative act which provided for an increase in salary to the district attorney based on the county population."

At Monday's conference in the commissioners' office, Hansen contended that he was entitled to the sum, but Kitson's stand was that the salary of any elected or appointed official could not be increased while he was in office.

The deadline for filing an exception to the 1951 audit is next Tuesday.

"Because of this," Nitrauer continued, "there was not enough time left to have a judicial determination of the question."

All of the county's points raised on alleged improper payments to officials were first set forth in a minority report submitted by County Auditor John Wernett March 27.

The commissioners began a review of Wernett's report last week, after President Judge Fred W. Davis directed that their attention be called to filing of the report.

Four MIGs Downed

Seoul, AP—U. S. Sabre jet pilots reported they shot four Communist MIGs from the skies yesterday—the first anniversary of the crowning of America's first jet ace.

When 600 University of Vermont men roamed the campus, rocks and tear gas filled the air and at least two students were injured. Others were locked up in jail by the carload.

Co-eds sparked a fairly good-natured demonstration at Northwestern University by serenading in front of men's dormitories. Some 1,000 males responded with a panty raid on the girls' residences.

Pickings were scarce at the University of Minnesota where 500 students stormed three women's dormitories. The haul was four bras, four pairs of panties, one silk slip.

Co-eds drenched University of Connecticut males with buckets of water as 3,000 invaded sorority quadrangle with a lust for lace.

More than 1,000-panty-intrigued University of Wisconsin men made their way into three co-ed halls but their mood was prankish and there were no incidents.

Stubborn co-eds at the University of Delaware fought back with fire hoses as 250 snorting, pawing youths rushed their quarters.

HST Sees Less Chance Of War

West Point, N.Y. (AP)—President Truman said yesterday Korea has put the free world on the right track "to preserving our freedom without paying the frightful cost of world war."

"I believe we are well on the way," he said with sober but unmistakable optimism. "We are on the right track."

Western Union Offers Hourly Raise Of 7c

Washington (AP)—Western Telegraph Co. offered its striking workers an average raise of seven cents an hour yesterday but made the boost contingent on a rate increase to pay for it.

The offer also was made dependent upon union agreement to drop the union shop clause, provisions for overtime pay for week-end work, and some other items of the old contracts.

There was no sign the Commercial Telegraphers Union would accept the formula but the parties were called together again by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

It was the first cash offer from the company so far reported in the negotiations to end the 48-day walkout by about 31,000 employees. Up to yesterday the company had insisted that negotiations on the amount of a pay raise wait until rates had gone up.

The workers started out with a demand for a 25-cent hourly boost. They have cut that back to 18 cents.

Class Escapes Suspension

Elizabethtown (AP)—The senior class at Elizabethtown High School was back on the track to graduation yesterday after nearly being debarred because of what the seniors called a "skip-day holiday."

Principal T. H. Ebersole, who said the "skip-day" was "in the same spirit" that led to panty raids at colleges, decided to forget the whole episode.

It started Monday morning when all 62 seniors failed to report to class. Inquiry in this quiet Central Pennsylvania town of 4,500 disclosed that members of the class had agreed they needed a holiday before the final weeks of classes.

Ebersole announced very promptly that (A) the entire class was suspended; (B) members would not be permitted to attend the junior-senior prom Friday night; and (C) any senior who failed to report to class yesterday, or failed to bring along one or both parents, would stay suspended.

Ebersole met with the parents and announced: "As the result of a conference between the school administration and parents, agreement has been reached that the students may attend the prom. They will not be penalized for missed classes."

Pool Being Built At Indiantown

Harrisburg (AP)—The State Military Affairs Department disclosed yesterday it is constructing a swimming pool near the governor's Summer executive mansion at Indiantown Gap.

Lt. Gen. Frank A. Weber, state adjutant general, said the pool will be used by families of regular Army personnel stationed at the Gap and Pennsylvania National Guardsmen stationed there.

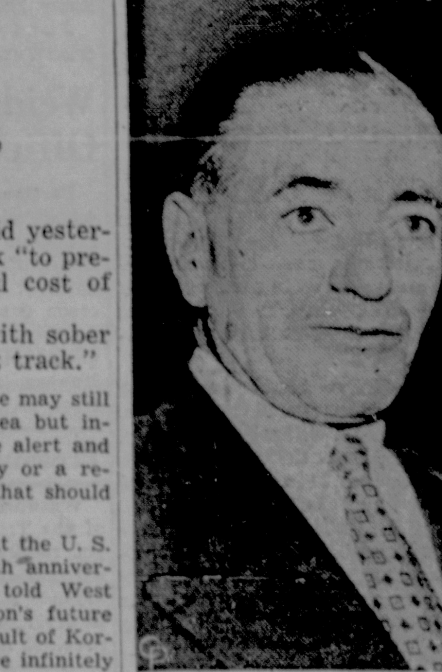

Weber said the pool will be of concrete construction and will be about 40 by 70 feet in size. The pool is being constructed, he said, with state funds and the work is being done by state-employed labor at the Gap. He said he was unable to estimate the cost of the pool.

Atom Bomb Test Delayed Again

Las Vegas, Nev. (AP)—Soldiers on pass were rounded up early yesterday for a previously postponed atomic bomb test, but the M.P.s did the job to no avail.

For the second time test officials pressed the button and nothing happened.

The AEC put it down to mechanical failure of the sequence timer, and put the much-delayed shot over for at least another 48 hours.

State Dems Skip Mention Of Candidates

Harrisburg (AP)—The 113-member Democratic State Committee reorganized yesterday by re-electing all its officers and skipping all mention of presidential candidates.

Maurice Splain Jr., Oil City, was unanimously named to a second two-year term as state chairman. The committee also elected Rep. George M. Rhodes, Reading, as a delegate-at-large to the Democratic National Convention. The action rounded out the Pennsylvania delegation to 80 persons with 70 votes.

(Monroe County was represented at the session by Van D. Yetter, candidate for General Assembly; Forest Smith, State committee man, and John A. Brislin, Democratic chairman.)

Domination Peril Seen

New York (AP)—Presbyterian leaders were told yesterday the nation must be on guard against a "new isolationism"—the kind that would have the United States dominate the world.

"The old geographical isolationism is dead," Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) told approximately 1,200 church leaders from all over the country.

But he said there are pressures for a new kind of "spiritual isolationism" which would withdraw this country from the councils of nations and allow it to make global decisions without reference to the views and aspirations of others.

This, he said, would undermine peace efforts of the free world.

Hays spoke at the opening of a two-day conference on evangelism, preceding the start Thursday of the week-long 164th annual assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A. The assembly is the top governing body of the 2½-million-member denomination.

'No Potatoes' Signs Appear In Spud Center

Portland, Me. (AP)—Grocers displayed "no potatoes" signs yesterday in the metropolis of the nation's leading potato state, while wholesalers fumed at growers and officials cast about for black market shenanigans.

Housewives made unaccustomed rounds to scrap up a few spuds for the dinner table. Home gardeners found potato seed scanty. And in all but principal hotels and restaurants, menus offered rice and macaroni as potato substitutes.

Dealer Gerald Cole accused farmers in the state's northern potato belt of holding out for over ceiling prices.

French Use B-26s To Bomb Reds

Hanoi, Indochina (AP)—French airmen using U. S. B-26 bombers yesterday attacked the Communist-led Vietminh's rice bowl and supply routes from Red China.

To Succeed McGrath In Cabinet Post

Washington (AP)—The Senate approved last night President Truman's appointment of Federal Judge James P. McGranery of Philadelphia to be attorney general.

The nomination of the 56-year-old jurist to succeed J. Howard McGrath in the Cabinet post was confirmed by a vote of 52 to 18.

Republican Senators Edward Martin and James H. Duff of Pennsylvania voted with the majority for confirming the appointment.

Action had hung fire since April 3 when President Truman named McGranery just after he had let McGrath out of the Cabinet in a follow-up to McGrath's firing of Newbold Morris as government corruption investigator.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) led the opposition to McGranery's nomination. They assailed him as a man of "most questionable" integrity, ability and veracity. They criticized him for past actions on investigation of public officials—a job he has inherited as attorney general—and for his current views on the emergency powers of the President.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) of the Senate Judiciary Committee and other Democrats spoke out in high praise of McGranery, a former member of the House.

McCarran described McGranery as an "honest, sincere, God-fearing, fair official" and predicted he would have "a great administration" as attorney general.

"It is easy to select small items in the career of a public official and magnify them to make them appear as mountains instead of molehills," the Nevada said with reference to the whole opposition to the nominee.

Ferguson and Watkins, asking the Senate to reject the nomination, centered their fire on:

One—McGranery's action in 1945, as assistant to the attorney general, in turning down a New York grand jury's request for special counsel to conduct an inquiry into the U. S. attorney's office in the district.

Ferguson said that blocked a move to "clear out the corruption and the malfeasance" in the Justice Department.

Two—McGranery's own testimony, in hearings on his nomination, on the extent of the President's "inherent" powers.

Watkins said that testimony indicated McGranery's advice to the President "would support the usurpation of power which has reached its culmination in the steel seizure."

McCarran told the Senate that the grand jury's request for a special investigation in New York was based on a complaint from a man with a criminal record and a penchant for litigation.

After consultation with federal judges in New York, McCarran said, it was decided there was no justification for superseding the district attorney.

Screen Writers Admit Mistake

Washington (AP)—Two Hollywood screen writers identified themselves as ex-Communists before the House Un-American Activities Committee yesterday and said ruefully they had made a mistake in joining the party.

"I am glad I got out as soon as I did and wish that I had gotten out sooner," Isabel Lennart of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer testified.

"I was sold a bill of goods," said Stanley Roberts of Columbia Pictures. "I wasn't drugged. I wasn't looking for girls. I went in with my eyes open. I made a

Robert Paul Hurt As Car Hits Bridge

Kellersville — A car was demolished and a man injured in an accident on the Snyder'sville-Bossardsville road near here at 5 p. m. yesterday.

The man, Robert A. Paul, 29, of 617 Ann St., Stroudsburg, a salesman, was taken by ambulance to the General Hospital in East Stroudsburg.

He was admitted for treatment of a fractured left hip and cuts on the head and face. His condition was reported "good" by a hospital spokesman.

Brodheads State police said Paul's car skidded on the wet macadam as he was driving toward Snyder'sville. It struck one side of the abutment of the stone bridge over McMichael's Creek, rebounded and crashed into the other abutment.

The car was towed to a Saylor's garage.

Depot Bids To Be Opened

Philadelphia (AP) — Bidding on contracts for construction of buildings, utilities and site improvements at Tobyhanna Signal Depot, Monroe County, will be opened May 28, the district corps of Army Engineers announced yesterday.

Work is now being pressed simultaneously on the first, or site preparation, and the second phases of the $33,000,000 project. Second phase involves warehouses and utilities.

Final phase, bids for which are to be opened May 28, will include remaining warehouses, administration buildings, landscaping, etc.

There is also the 200-unit Wherry housing project, plans for which are being perfected by Rinker & Kiefer, Stroudsburg architects. Bids for housing for custodial personnel on the depot will be sought in August.

Wheel Slips Off Road, Car Rolls Over

Blakeslee — A shoulder two to three inches lower than the concrete highway resulted in a one-car accident at 8:40 a. m. yesterday about two miles south of here on Route 115.

Driver was Cornelius J. McGaarty, 25, Edwardsville, Pa. Brodheads State police said he was driving south when a right front wheel slipped off the edge of the concrete.

When McGaarty attempted to steer back onto the concrete, the wheel struck the two-to-three-inch-high edge and the car went out of control, police said.

The vehicle rolled over completely and came to rest on all four wheels again. The driver was uninjured, but $800 damage was done to the car, owned by Four-Wheels Inc., of Chicago.

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College educators met last night at Oakes Hall on campus to honor a retiring member of the college staff.

Recipient of the honors was Dr. C. J. Naegle, dean of instruction at the college, who is slated to retire following this school year.

Lions Club Votes $75 To Sayre Fund

The Stroudsburg Lions Club last night voted to contribute a $75 check to the "Bobby Sayre Operation Fund."

Approval of the donation was given at a regular dinner meeting of the club in the Penn-Stroud Hotel. The money was voted after Leonard Randolph, a Daily Record reporter, outlined the worthiness of the appeal.

The $75 total brings the amount of the fund up to $118. A goal of $200 had been set with a deadline established at Monday, May 26.

The Lions received the report of the nominating committee with a list of officers for the coming fiscal year and heard an address by Dr. Grady Moore of the department of biology, State Teachers College.

Dr. Moore spoke on Biological warfare. The program was in charge of Howard Atwell, who introduced Dr. Moore. The latter traced the antecedents of biological warfare in ancient times and said that while there is undoubted potency in microbe dissemination, there is also a problem, namely that of transmission of the deadly germs.

For example, he pointed out, the possibility of infecting water supplies is often dwelt upon as containing the utmost in horror. The fact is, however, he said, that the system of filtration used at all great reservoirs would neutralize much of the virility of such attacks.

The list of officers submitted for the coming year is as follows: Immediate past president, T. Manning Curtis; president, Harry Phillips; first vice president, William Hinton; second, Myron Zateeny; third, Floyd Butz; tall twister, Dr. William Koppenhaver; lion tamer, Joseph Kovarik; directors, one year, Seymour Katz and Rudolph Menheim; for two years, Edward Drabe and John Regan; secretary, Harold Snyder; treasurer, Henry Reader.

Bobby Sayre's Condition Good After Eye Operation

Bobby Sayre was operated on yesterday morning at Scranton Mercy Hospital.

With the operation, Bobby took another big step on his way toward recovery from a series of crippling diseases which had threatened his life since birth.

Bobby, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sayre, Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, entered the hospital Monday for an eye operation which doctors hope will give him normal vision.

Hospital officials last night reported the boy's condition as "good."

The operation, if successful, will be a triumph for Bobby in more ways than just the regaining of his normal sight.

The seven-year-old boy was born with an enlarged heart which, until recently, made such an operation impossible.

A series of other diseases and muscular ailments during the early years of his life complicated Bobby's recovery from the heart disease.

A fund to finance the boy's operation was begun Monday by East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, under the supervision of Mrs. Kenneth Stine, treasurer of the church emergency department.

Individual contributions to the "Bobby Sayre Fund" collected by Mrs. Stine during the first two-day period amounted to $43 last night.

The fund grew rapidly yesterday following an $8 collection during the first 12 hours of the drive.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton, whose church is handling the collection of funds, related two interesting stories last night concerning contributions from individuals.

The first of these, Rev. Eaton said, came from Mrs. Helen Teeter, of Stroudsburg, who sent a contribution on behalf of herself and her two daughters.

A second such "human interest" donation came from Capt. Raymond Davies, East Stroudsburg.

Capt. Davies, a veteran of both Korea and World War Two, made his contribution to Rev. Eaton in person—"from me and my children," he said.

The officer, who was seriously injured in action in Korea, returned home a week ago.

These two donations, Rev. Eaton emphasized, were only a sample of the many which had come into the collection point.

Plans for a special "carnival of fun" matinee at the Grand Theatre in East Stroudsburg, meanwhile, were completed yesterday, according to Victor Austin, manager of the theatre.

Austin, who volunteered to stage a one-hour show for the benefit of the fund, said admission to the matinee from noon to 1 p. m. Saturday will be by donation only.

T-B Society Renames Secor As President

Carl T. Secor, supervising principal of East Stroudsburg school system, was reelected president of Monroe County Tuberculosis Society last night, and he immediately announced he would create a series of working committees to handle a broad program of activities during the next year.

Morris Evans was reelected treasurer, and Kurt Wimer, vice president. Mrs. Robert Hartman was named secretary. Mrs. Gordon Savage, who has ably served as secretary a number of years, requested release from the post.

Closer liaison with the Monroe County Medical Society with possibility of a joint meeting was proposed by Dr. Paul Shiffer, board member, who also outlined some proposals regarding possible improvements in the society's program of providing X-rays.

Mr. Secor named Dr. Shiffer chairman of a committee to investigate and provide costs of the proposed X-ray project. He will report at a special meeting of the society board.

A tentative budget was approved for filing with the state society headquarters.

Mrs. Estelle Fleming, executive secretary, will attend the annual health conference at State College Aug. 25-28.

Her report showed 1,565 persons were X-rayed, including 645 food handlers and 920 school personnel, students, teachers, hot lunch aides, bus drivers, janitors. Some 46 re-X-rays were advised. There were 39 follow-up X-rays, five enlarged heart shadows, five suspicious cases and four where X-rays were requested by physicians.

Mrs. Fleming attended eleven health meetings and school class meetings groups to discuss tuberculosis control or general health work, and provided films which reached over 200 people.

Timely Vigilance

Three major questions concerning expenditure of county funds during 1951, raised by county Auditor John Wernett in a minority report, have apparently been resolved with payment by former county officials of the monies involved.

The third question, that involving the district attorney's salary during 1951, is still in dispute but the ground-work for reaching a proper decision in the matter has apparently been created.

All of this action, resulting from a meeting called by County Commissioners with the officials in question, must be greeted with considerable satisfaction by Monroe County taxpayers.

One of the interesting points raised in the conference concerned the "lump sum" commissioners received as election expenses. Here was a matter that "has been the practice, that has been the vogue, for 12 years in each election," rather than submission of an itemized report of expenses, according to a statement made by one of the former officials.

Apparently, no county authority, official or individual ever questioned the practice, even though the audit is filed for inspection of all and also published for inspection by all people.

Certainly, if the practice had been questioned when instituted, it probably would not have lived.

It is a point to be remembered. Vigilance, properly exercised, will eliminate recurrence of similar embarrassing situations.

Millions For Olmsted

Indicative of the repeated declaration from Washington that the Olmsted Air Force Base at Middletown would continue to be a most important link in the chain of Air Force installations across the nation is the award of a multi-million dollar contract for construction of jet engine test cells.

The building, which will be the only one of its type in the East, will cost some $2,224,645, and is planned to be separate from other test cells already established at Middletown.

In them will be tested the most modern and powerful type aircraft engines built for our Air Force.

It is most satisfactory news, this latest release affecting the big and busy Olmsted Air Force Base employing so many thousands of Pennsylvania citizens, for it is assurance that there is no intention of retarding the continuing growth and essential importance of the installation.

Good News

In North Carolina, ten Ku Klux Klansmen have been convicted of kidnapping and conspiracy for flogging a man and a woman of whose behavior the Kluxers did not approve.

That is some of the best news of the season.

The KKK's reign of terror over many parts of this country back in the Twenties is one of the blackest pages in our history.

Although it was crushed then, the process was not thorough enough.

It is good for people in other parts of the country to see that Southern courts and Southern judges know how to deal with the Kluxers. And if the South runs short of jail space for them, the rest of the country will gladly help build more. That is one bill any taxpayer would be proud to help pay.

Eggplant is said to be a native of southern Asia, where it has been cultivated since remote antiquity.

These Days - - By George E. Sokolsky

Whittaker Chambers

An autobiography is the most difficult of all literary designs and few of them have survived the centuries. Herbert Hoover, in the second volume of his autobiography, "The Memoirs of Herbert Hoover," says of this:

"Four of the thirty-two Presidents of the United States have ventured into the field of autobiography. They were John Quincy Adams, Ulysses S. Grant, Theodore Roosevelt, and Calvin Coolidge. The diaries of James K. Polk also possibly belong in this category."

"Every autobiography has a major justification. It presents the participation of an individual among forces and events which, if recorded, contribute pieces of mosaic to the historian. From these pieces he creates great murals of human experience—with the hope that they will illuminate the way of human progress."

Whittaker Chambers has written an autobiography, entitled "Witness," a segment of which has already been published in "The Saturday Evening Post." The prefatory letter to his children has been read on the radio and television and is known to millions of Americans.

The autobiography is important from two standpoints: This is the story of hundreds, if not thousands of young Americans who, during the years of the Depression, found themselves utterly bewildered by the circumstances of the moment. The Depression left them without hope and prospect. Having been reared in a secular environment, their faith in existing institutions stood on sand; they turned to Karl Marx as the prophet of the future.

The sensitive youth is rarely appreciated in his own environment where often ridicule is the response to the challenge of his differing personality. Thus, many of our young people, in the frigidities of a loneliness which drove them to the excitement of changing the world—changing it fast.

Whittaker Chambers is one of these thousands of young men and women. Some became Communists; some became spies; some became "leftists," which is a round term for disagreement with the state of the world as it is. In an earlier period, such young people might have become missionaries, settlement workers, labor leaders, muck-raking journalists, fighters for causes.

Chambers is an extremely sensitive, artistic person who lives in philosophy and music and a love for life. And he did not find it in the life of the years of the depression in the world of his youth. His search was for a way to change the world by his own efforts with the sureness that it had to be changed.

His autobiography will be read as a fascinating story, but I do not think of his book as the story of a man but as a clinical report on a generation that went wrong. We need not limit our criticism of that generation to the Communists; even those who are not Communists often lack the spiritual values which sustained this nation for three centuries, but which we are losing. I often wonder what our children are being taught and why we blame them for not knowing what no one has exposed to them in their formative years. A tree will not be stronger than its roots.

Chambers became a spy against his own country. He did not spy for pay; he spied to change the world. His labors brought him poverty. When he realized the enormity of his crime, he did not change over to gain wealth by writing a book or to go on a lecture tour. He chose loneliness and poverty. Desperate for bread, he was rescued by a job on "Time," but he was not converted for a job. He was converted because his soul demanded it.

When he exposed himself, the statute of limitations did not apply. This is an amazing phase of the story—a spy gives himself up to a high official of the State Department and nothing is done about it for ten years. When Chambers went to A. A. Berle, Jr. in 1939, he, in effect, gave himself up. But the government did not want him. It took him 10 years to tell his story—the 10 most crucial years in American history, the years of war and defeat.

What Whittaker Chambers' book, "Witness," conclusively proves to me is that youth, having lost its way, seeks grand adventure.

And what can be more adventuresome than secretly trying to change the whole world all alone?

Try And Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

For the man who is always breathless and burdened with "too much to do," Karin Roon's advice might be useful. "Being rushed is not a virtue in itself," he points out. "It is merely a sign of bad management. The art of living consists not in stuffing the day as full as possible, but in getting through that day with a sense of achievement, of enjoyment, and without excessive fatigue."

Bits of wisdom from Irving Hoffman, the Hollywood sage: 1. A good way to give your car a lasting finish is to try to beat a train to a crossing. 2. If used to be the father who gave the bride away; today it's some peephole columnist. 3. In cafe society, an aristocrat is a person who can trace his ancestry back to his father. 4. A youthful figure is what you usually get when you ask a lady her age.

Chicago—With nearly all the primary races behind them, presidential candidates are beginning to concentrate on state conventions where delegates are comparatively few in number but vitally important when the time comes for political horse-trading here in July.

One remaining primary is South Dakota's. And the early front runner, Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, now finds himself in a horse race with General Dwight D. Eisenhower as they near the June 3rd deadline.

South Dakota is normally a rapid Republican state and there are no indications of anything different happening this November in the presidential elections. However, the state has shifted its political emphasis from strict non-interference in international matters to a wider view of the world. Much of this is due to war veterans and an increased number of college graduates who benefited from the GI Bill. They are taking places of leadership in their communities.

Eisenhower is popular with this segment of the population. He also is fortunate in having as his political mentor ex-Governor George Mickelson, who recently retired after two successful terms. Mickelson is a shrewd political manager and is credited with getting the Eisenhower bandwagon rolling.

Taft, who would normally be expected to pick up major strength among farm residents, is still the victim of a fatal error made by the 80th Congress. Farmers have not forgotten the failure of that GOP-controlled legislature to provide them with adequate funds for crop storage.

Eisenhower's silence prior to the June 3 primary is assured. So he does have the advantage of not having to comment on this and other issues.

The state elects 14 delegates in June. Taft is the only name on the ballot in the nomination contest. Eisenhower's delegates are listed as those having no political preference, but this is a familiar political myth corrected long ago by ex-Governor Mickelson.

Eisenhower's supporters are predicting a two-to-one victory in the state. This is pre-election wishful thinking, but his backers obviously do have something to bolster their courage.

Taft's people predict victory also. They are doing less talking now, however, and more field work among the voters. His forces lack effective leadership, but last-minute plans have been laid to strengthen it.

Political experts in the state with whom I have talked simply say it will be a close contest. They are as surprised as Eisenhower's campaigners at the recent upsurge of support for the general.

They attribute it in part to appeals made for him in larger communities. In almost every city the population has jumped, with young men and women coming off the farms to city jobs. Increased use of farm machinery and ample job opportunities are taking them into the cities.

The delegate race between Taft and Eisenhower is close. South Dakota's 14 votes will look awfully good to either side at convention time if the race continues the way it is now going.

MIRACLE OF AMERICA—INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

In one of the newspapers I read there appeared the story of a wedding.

There was nothing very unusual about the wedding, nor about the bride or the groom. You wouldn't know their names if I mentioned them.

But my attention was drawn to the picture that went with the story.

It showed the boy and girl both looking through the door of a steamship cabin.

The ship was going to take them to Europe on a honeymoon. They were about to close the door. And, on the floor, just outside were two pairs of shoes—his and hers.

Alongside those shoes was a wine cooler with an empty champagne bottle in it.

Beside the cooler were two champagne glasses, upside down.

I wish the young couple the very best of luck.

I hope they will be very, very happy.

And I sincerely hope they won't be seasick either on the trip to Europe or during their entire married life.

But it seems to me that that picture was symbolic of so many of today's marriages.

The story told that the captain married them and that there was a great whoop-de-do among the passengers afterward.

Everybody was having a wonderful time.

That's the way a good many marriages start off.

A big whoop-de-do, champagne, everybody is having a wonderful time.

And then what?

There is hardly a day that our newspapers—yours and mine—don't report some elaborate wedding.

To read the report you'd imagine that the bride's father, or whoever paid for the wedding, spent a year's income on the affair.

derful time.

That's the way a good many marriages start off.

A big whoop-de-do, champagne, everybody is having a wonderful time.

And then what?

There is hardly a day that our newspapers—yours and mine—don't report some elaborate wedding.

To read the report you'd imagine that the bride's father, or whoever paid for the wedding, spent a year's income on the affair.

There are bridesmaids in gorgeous costumes, best man and ushers with ascot ties and boutonniere, flower girls and whatnot.

The church service, the wedding breakfast, the old shoes, the rice, the honeymoon (with his and her shoes outside) — and then what?

Bride and groom come home. Some to their own homes, others to his father's or her mother's.

And, all of a sudden, the kids realize that this is not just another party, but something AWFULLY serious.

All of a sudden they realize that the two of them have to spend the rest of their lives together. Didn't the minister say "until death do you part"?

What have they done to make ready for this awesome excursion into life?

How have they prepared themselves for it?

Benjamin Franklin once wrote a letter to a young man.

In it he said:

"It is the man and woman united that makes the complete human being. Separate, she wants his force of body and strength of reason; he, her softness, sensibility and acute discernment. Together they are most likely to succeed in the world."

I think that's a better picture of marriage than those empty champagne glasses.

Hollywood — Louis de Rochemont has produced another fine documentary, "Walk East on Beacon," a story of FBI men against Communist spies. Like his "House on 92nd Street" and "Boomerang," this one combines excitement and a feeling of news-reel reality.

An anonymous phone call starts the G-men unraveling a skein of Red intrigue. The spies, mostly harmless-looking Americans like a florist, a photographer, a taxi-driver, and a couple of pretty girls, seek to penetrate a top-secret government weapons project.

Guided by a Moscow emissary (Karel Stepanek) they finally kidnap its chief brains, 74-year-old Finlay Currie (with his gray locks long like Einstein's.) By then the FBI agents, led by George Murphy, are ready to close in.

The plot as a whole gets a little complicated. But individually detailed tricks of spying and detection keep suspense at high pitch. The G-men use cameras concealed in auto spotlights as they trail suspects. They spy on conferences in the photographer's darkroom with television. Blonde Virginia Gilmore and brunette Louisa Horton are the most decorative of the subversives.

"The Atomic City," another thriller, follows the old cliff-hanger formula but with redeeming modern touches. Instead of Pearl White, queen of the silent serials, it's an 8-year-old boy grasping the ledge of a New Mexico chasm.

Chasing him are several sinister spies who've kidnapped him for a special kind of ransom — his father's atomic secrets. His father (Gene Barry, a Broadway actor here making his movie debut) is a top scientist at the Los Alamos A-bomb laboratories. Helicopter

The Video Candidate

All candidates for the Presidency seem video conscious this season and it would surprise nobody if some aspirant came out with the following speech, as a result of the television influence:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this is the 'Luther V. McGonigle Favorite Son Program' or 'You, Too, Can Make the White House Hour.' Send no money! Merely get off a postcard demanding another speech if you like my views. First of all let me say that McGonigle—and only McGonigle—is entirely free from a source of irritation found in all other candidates for the Presidency of the United States.

"My friends, what do the voters want most of all? They want security. They want to feel relaxed and comfortable as they look around the world. And what can give you greater relaxation and comfort than a cool, refreshing glass of the right beer. Yes, when you are troubled by the economic picture, taxes or the foreign situation, ask your grocer to send up a case of the beer that has been made by the same formula for 100 years. That brings me to the important question of a candidate's ability to cope with the problems of today. There is one way you can tell. Tear and compare! Take a candidate, tear a strip straight down the center and notice what's inside. When you tear a strip down McGonigle you find him round, firm and fully packed. Tear a strip down my opponents and what do you get? Loose ends! They fall apart, they are stringy.

Do you want a man in the White House who can stop inflation? Then look sharp, feel sharp and be sharp! From me, my friends, you can obtain not only

COMING-OF-AGE of the Children's Aid Society of Monroe County was marked at the 21st annual Board meeting last night. Mrs. T. F. Rhodes, first president of the agency is shown cutting the cake; with Mrs. Frank F. Patterson Jr., president of the board; Dr. Herbert M. Diamond, guest speaker; and Dr. T. J. Breitwieser, charter member, standing by. Other charter members still serving on the board are Robert A. Bixler, Mrs. F. W. Deibert, Dr. Elmer Kuntz, and Mrs. Rufus Miller.

New Directors Elected To CAS Board; Dr. Diamond On Board Members Responsibility

Three new members were elected to the board of directors of the Children's Aid Society at the annual meeting held last night at the agency's headquarters on Sarah Street. Mrs. Arthur Krome and Miss Ella Mills, of the West End section of the county, and Walter McClelland of South Stroudsburg, were elected to vacancies on the board.

Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr., Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, Mrs. Edward Calkins Jr., Mrs. Fred Davis, Mrs. J. Byron Deacon, Mrs. Arthur Grotz and Christie Shull were re-elected to the board. The vacancies on the board occurred through the resignations of Mrs. John Diehl and Mrs. Fred Quig, and the election of Mrs. Rufus Miller, charter member, as an honorary member of the board.

Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr., president of the board, presided at last night's meeting at which Dr. Herbert M. Diamond, head of the department of economics and sociology at Lehigh University, first vice president of the board of directors of the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania, chairman of the state advisory committee of the state CAS, and member of the Lehigh County board of the CAS, was the guest speaker, stressing "Board Member Responsibility."

Distinguishing between public and private welfare agencies, he said that in these days when the growing trend toward public welfare, the private agency had a responsibility toward exploration, new techniques, through its independence and freedom of decision, and a concern for the integrity of the individuals growing from its individual and voluntary concern for community welfare.

Board members must be informed as to the financial setup of the agency, as well as thoroughly conversant with the work of its trained personnel in order to interpret it to the community, he said. With this in mind he advocated a widely diversified representation from all community groups, a board membership informed not only on their own agencies but on the work of other agencies with which it must cooperate.

Mrs. Patterson expressed her appreciation to the commissioners and the Community Chest officials who have worked so cooperatively with the agency during the past year, to the board members, and to Mrs. Jean L. Albert, executive secretary; Mrs. A. G. Gearhart, social worker and Miss Doris Brerman, office secretary, as well as the Junior Woman's Club which for the seventh year provided funds for Christmas gifts to the wards of the society.

Mrs. Albert in her annual report stressed the problems which had been met during the year, the advances which had been made, and the ever-present need of more foster homes. Her statistical report was submitted in printed form. Mrs. Jesse Flory gave the nominating committee report.

Since the meeting marked the 21st annual board meeting a "coming of age" party followed the meeting with a birthday cake and refreshments. Mrs. Fred Jones was chairman of the hospitality committee which included Mrs. Jesse Flory, Mrs. T. F. Rhodes and Mrs. Frank Patterson Jr.

Job Opportunities In Co. Industries, Institutions, Resorts Listed For PTA

The panel discussion of vocational opportunities in Monroe County at Stroudsburg High School on Monday night was a practical service to the students who are about to make their schedule for next year. Parents and teachers at this last meeting of the Stroudsburg PTA session agreed that the information presented was of great significance. Actual openings in heavy industry, light industry office work, resorts, and institutions were detailed with up-to-date facts about duties, preparations, wages, hours and opportunities for advancement.

H. G. Sanborn Jr., of Worthington Mower Co., spoke of the county's 55 industries, employing 5,000 people with a payroll of $12,000,000 annually. He advised that a high school graduate who wished employment in one of the heavy industries could apply at the state employment agency stating his job preference, but emphasized that application at the office of the actual plant of his choice would carry the recommendation of real interest.

Mr. Sanborn's pet enthusiasm, he said, is for the establishment of a school which would specialize in vocational-technical education. This would not be a trade school but a school where a curriculum of academic integrity would be "slanted toward industry, just as our familiar academic course is slanted toward college."

Paul Dellaria, of Hughes Printing Company, told of the overcrowded condition in textiles, and the excellent opportunity to be anticipated in the building trades, especially in Tobyhanna. He described in detail the possibility for a young person entering printing.

Mrs. Lucille Gossey spoke of work at the Bell Telephone office. She said that the work of operator was usually the stepping stone to other types of employment with this company. Openings in the local office, she said, are practically tripled during the summer season, but a waiting list of experienced summer workers takes care of most of this need. She stressed the importance of English, speech, and good vision.

For the resorts, Harry Shinsen presented a crying need for employees, since the modern resort is like a miniature city with a great variety of employment available for both men and women. The story of the man who advanced from bus boy to assistant manager in five years, he said, is by no means unusual.

The applicant should go directly to the main desk and be directed to the appropriate office. Mrs. Natalie Bell, of Waring Enterprises, had investigated the

Heim-Gorman Wedding At Grace Church

Mrs. Bertha Elizabeth Gorman, daughter of Mrs. Mary Smith and the late Charles Smith of East Stroudsburg, became the bride of Theodore Raymond Heim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Heim of Muskegon, Michigan, at eight o'clock on Monday night before the candle-lit altar of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, in East Stroudsburg. The quiet double-ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. William F. Wunder, Grace Church pastor, in the presence of families and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bowman of East Stroudsburg attended the bridal couple at best man and matron-of-honor respectively.

The bride wore a faillie Navy-blue street length dress with pink accessories and she wore a tall, man rose-bud corsage. Mrs. Bowman wore a sheer Navy-blue street length dress with pink accessories and wore a pink carnation corsage. The bride's mother, Mrs. Mary Smith, wore a grey wool suit, black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bridal couple knelt before the altar, which was graced with bouquets of white carnations during the wedding prayers.

Following the wedding a reception was held for the newlyweds at the bride's home.

The bridegroom and his bride plan to leave for Muskegon, Mich. in the very near future combining a honeymoon with a visit to the home of the bridegroom's parents.

The bridegroom spent six years in the United States Navy. The bride is owner-operator of Gorman's Inn near the inter-borough bridge on Washington St., East Stroudsburg. The newlyweds will be at home to their friends at 236 Washington St.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

Most of us enjoy legends, so today I'll recount one told by Edna Harmon. A carry-over from the day when she was selling sterling silver dogwood pins and earrings in our Wyckoff jewelry department, it seems particularly appropriate now, when the dogwood is blooming so lavishly throughout our county.

According to the story, the dogwood was once a towering, straight tree of very hard wood... so appropriate to the need that it was chosen for use in the Cross upon which Jesus was to be crucified. During the long hours of His terrible ordeal, the helpless tree suffered with shame and sorrow, and Christ, realizing this, was compassionate. Never more, He resolved, would the dogwood be used as a cross. Thereafter its growth was to be stunted, and it would be frail, twisted and gnarled. The blossoms would, however, take the form of a cross, with two long and two short petals. On the outer edge of each would be nail prints, brown with rust and stained with red, and in the flower's center would be a tiny crown of thorns.

Thus it is that today we marvel at the beauty and abundance of the dogwood. And those of us who know the legend pause in awe and gratitude to remember.

This is undoubtedly one of the happiest days Tommy Rinehart has known in his entire life... the day upon which his son, Graham, is to be ordained into the ministry at services in St. John's Lutheran church where he was previously christened, confirmed and married. After the ordination, the young man will leave for his first charge at Berwick.

We at Wyckoff's are particularly interested in his success... not just because of his father, who has been our colleague and a friend of Wyckoff customers for many years, but because Graham's wife is the former Thelma Acker, once employed in our needlework department. Thelma says her new duties as a minister's wife, about to settle down in her first parsonage, are pretty exciting. And all of us say, "Good Luck!"

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Today's column was scheduled to deal with athletes of this area, present and past, and what many of them are doing in the higher elements of sports, namely baseball. However, the scheduled presence of Robert K. Christenberry at today's Stroudsburg High Varsity "S" Club banquet drives every other thought from this writer's head, as if there was any gray matter within this cranium capable of harboring thoughts.

I can't help but feel that the 31 Stroudsburg High varsity athletes and everyone who purchases a ticket for tonight's long awaited affair at the Penn-Stroud Hotel is in for one of the finest times of his life. Christenberry is coming here only a day or two before Life magazine features a terrific article by the new boss of the ring sport in New York. Advance material on this story serves notice that Bob pulls no punches in his quest for clean boxing and there's no reason to believe that the popular ring boss will soften his verbal blows at tonight's banquet.

Most people outside of New York would probably never receive an opportunity to see and listen to the straight thinking boxing commissioner, but Christenberry's love for the nation's youth and the Pocono Mountains has brought him to Stroudsburg today. Although Bob has a home in Shawnee, his relentless war on the underworld element in boxing prevents the popular hotel president and veteran diplomatic observer from spending as much time in this area as he would like.

Christenberry has climbed the ladder of success right to the top, after starting as sports editor of several Southern newspapers. His courage, personality and will to do the job right have placed him in high regard by all who have met him, save those that were in the wrong. Bob, showing the same fearless manner which characterized his early fight against the scum of the boxing world, names six gangsters, one of which was recently convicted of murder, who have played major roles in boxing, in the next issue of Life.

Among this group is Felix Bocchicchio, Joe Walcott's manager, who despite being the heavyweight champion's pilot, has been refused a license by the New York commission. The straight thinking remarks of a man like Christenberry is a "must" for senior athletes who in the near future may take their place in collegiate and professional sports. Bob has seen sports at its highest and lowest points and you can rest assured that tonight's remarks and advice come from an expert.

"New York is going to make boxing clean up or close up. I hope and believe we can clean it up because I like boxing and want to see it thrive. But if we fail I will go before the Legislature to ask that boxing be abolished in New York, its traditional capital. Boxing might get along in such a case; New York certainly could. Already there have been threats that the boxing center of the country will move to Chicago, Los Angeles, or somewhere else. I, for one, am perfectly willing to see that happen if the only alternative is that New Yorkers close their eyes to the influence that would despoil the sport."

This quote taken from the new Life story, shows the real Christenberry. It reveals a man who is so strong in his belief that he would rather drive the sport from New York, rather than watch the people of that great city throw their money down the drain, while watching bouts that were either "fixed" or featured two boxers that would be more at home in a hospital than in the squared circle.

Boxing writers in New York, on occasion, have differed with Christenberry, but not even the New York writers, who appear to know all the answers, have ever questioned Christenberry's thinking and his determination to clean up the ring sport which has been steadily on the decline since the end of World War II.

I feel certain that everyone attending today's Varsity "S" banquet will be enlightened on the ring situation as it exists in New York and other sections of the country and measures being taken to combat the criminal element in the sport. However, regardless of the theme of Christenberry's talk, everyone can rest assured that it will be one of the best ever delivered in this area.

Surprises Mark Program Set For Varsity 'S' Banquet

Findings Of Subcommittee

New York (AP) — In 1929, just before the great depression, a major league baseball club owner needed $140,000 a year for players, coaches and a manager. The total outlay for 16 major league clubs that year was approximately $3,765,000.

By 1950 only one big league club spent less than $300,000 for such salaries and four of them went over the half-million mark. The total jumped to $6,920,000. These and other interesting figures are revealed in a hefty volume titled "Study of Monopoly Power" which reports the hearings by Rep. Emanuel Celler's D-NY subcommittee which inquired into the operation of big league baseball last year.

Among the myths dispelled are that the Washington Senators are the poorest-paid major leaguers; that Branch Rickey invariably kept his players "hungry" for victory by holding down salaries; and that Larry MacPhail was a free-handed spender in the payroll department. They do uphold the belief that its good—financially speaking—to be a Yankee.

The book includes tables showing club salary details for the years of 1929, 1933, 1939, 1943, 1946 and 1950. Individual player salaries are not listed.

Only one of the six tables fail to show the New York Yankees at the top of the payroll list. The exception was in 1945, early in the MacPhail regime, when they dropped behind the Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers, the first clubs to go over $500,000 a year for salaries. Similarly, the Chicago Cubs generally have been the top-pay club of the National League with the New York Giants close behind. The survey shows Washington never has been last, nor first, in the American League salary totals. The St. Louis Cardinals of the Rickey era were about in the same spot, but in 1950 the Cardinals of Fred Saigh moved to the top of the National League with a $495,683 payroll. The only year Brooklyn topped the list was 1943, when Rickey laid out $271,424 in salaries.

The over-all figures showed little change from 1929 to 1943, with National League totals running slightly higher than the American in 1929 and 1933 and dropping below in every tabulation since then. But in 1946 the post-war salary total for the two leagues jumped to $5,647,106—more than two million above 1943—and it rose another million plus in the next four years. The highest salary total for one club was the Yankees' $651,605 in 1950; the lowest, the Philadelphia Athletics' $135,405 in 1943. The Pittsburgh Pirates outlay in 1929 was $140,422, lowest in the majors that year; in 1950, the Pirates spent $363,508, which topped the Cincinnati Reds in the National League and Washington, St. Louis and Chicago in the American League.

HAIRSTON FAVORED Over LaMotta

Detroit (AP) — Eugene "Silent" Hairston, an on-the-up-grade 22-year-old, ranks a slight betting favorite to whip Jake LaMotta, aging Bronx Bull, in their 10-round middleweight fight at Olympia Stadium tonight.

The deaf mute Negro was given a 6-5 edge by the betting fraternity, although he was held to a draw here March 5 by the 30-year-old LaMotta, once the middleweight champ.

The fight will be telecast and broadcast nationally, starting at 10 p.m. EDT. The original drew 10,000 and Promoter Nick Londes said that advance ticket sales indicated an even larger crowd tonight.

Final Track Meet

Bangor — Bangor High will be looking for its first track and field victory of the season today, when the Slaters stack up against a strong Parkland High machine, at 4 p. m., on the latter's home cinders.

Alfred W. Munson, principal of Stroudsburg High School, announced last night that the program has been set for today's Varsity "S" banquet, to be held at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, at which time Robert K. Christenberry, boxing commissioner of New York state, will be the featured speaker.

It was also learned last night that a late rush on tickets was featured yesterday and a good sized crowd is expected at the banquet, which begins at 6:30 p. m.

However, it was also pointed out that there are still plenty of tickets available and that they may be purchased at DeVivo's Shoe Repair shop, Flagler's Drug Store and Scavo's Barber Shop. All tickets are priced at $2.50.

Munson made public the program which opens with the singing of America, while the invocation will be delivered by Earl F. Groner, superintendent of Stroudsburg schools.

Remarks will be delivered by Warren Loney, club president, and Christenberry will deliver the speech for which virtually every follower of athletics in this area has been waiting.

Awards will be presented to 31 varsity athletes from Stroudsburg High. Jerry Stulgaitis, football and baseball coach at the W. Main St. school will present the letters for those two sports, while Sam Russell, basketball mentor, will make the presentations to his boys.

Senior athletes will receive special awards from T. Manning "Cap" Curtis, athletic director at Stroudsburg High. The special awards are to be tailor made leather jackets, with the Varsity "S" Club emblem.

Al DeRenzi will serve as pianist for the program.

Harry M. Albert, a graduate of Stroudsburg High and well known throughout Monroe County, will serve as toastmaster for the affair.

Tonight's featured speaker will bring with him a wealth of experience and knowledge in virtually every walk of life, but will undoubtedly devote much of his talk to the sport of boxing and the manner in which he is trying to clean out the bad roots in the sport in New York.

Christenberry will be no stranger to those attending today's banquet, because the New York ring commissioner maintains a home in Shawnee and at one time owned Shawnee Inn.

Cavaliers To Meet Wilson Borough Today

Rain and wet grounds combined to wipe out the entire slate of baseball games in Monroe, Northampton and Wayne counties yesterday, with only one contest within our area of coverage definitely scheduled to be replayed today.

East Stroudsburg High was scheduled to oppose Wilson Borough yesterday, but the weatherman had other ideas. However, if conditions make it possible, the game will be played at 4 p. m. today.

Otherwise the battle will be fought tomorrow. However, if the game isn't played by Friday of this week, it will be cancelled, because the seniors of East Stroudsburg depart for their Washington trip.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that Ray Steele would pitch for the Cavaliers. However, the Eastburg mentor pointed out that Harold White would replace Jack Sommers at second base, while Dick Merring takes over for Paul "Candy" Miller at shortstop and Harold Litts handles the left field post. Otherwise the lineup will remain the same.

Undecided
Bangor was scheduled to play host to Hellertown yesterday, but it wasn't known at a late hour last night whether the contest would be played today or later in the season.

Barrett and Greene-Dreher-Stirling were slated to play at Newfoundland yesterday, but wet conditions also forced this game off the books. The contest was later cancelled because the schools found it impossible to work the game into their crowded schedules.

The Monroe County Softball League saw both of its games washed out last night for the first time this season.

Today's schedule in the softball loop sends Kulp's Foundry against Worthington Mower at Stroudsburg Playground, while Union Printers and Tucker's Chevrolet clash at the East Stroudsburg Junior High field. Both games are listed for 6:15 p. m.

Eastburg Little League Plans Special Affair

A special program has been scheduled by the East Stroudsburg Little League for the East Stroudsburg Junior High school auditorium tomorrow, with parents of all players receiving a special invitation to attend the affair, which is open to the public, free of charge.

The program is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. Highlighting the affair will be a recording of the speech that Carl E. Stutz, founder of Little League baseball, gave at the Stroud Courier banquet, at the Penn-Stroud Hotel last Saturday.

It is also planned to show a Little League film to all those attending the affair.

The East Stroudsburg Little League drew players for the coming season on Monday and each of the four teams now has 18 players, 15 of whom will be in uniform and on the bench each game.

The four clubs in the circuit this year will be Peters-Arnold-Howell; East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, Cramer's Lumber Co. and the East Stroudsburg National Bank.

Verdeur Selected On Middle Atlantic Team At Shawnee

Shawnee-On-Delaware — Joe Verdeur, Olympic breaststroke champion from Philadelphia, heads a squad of 14 swimmers that will represent the Middle Atlantic District AAU in the fourth annual Shawnee Invitation Swimming Championships at the Shawnee Inn and Country Club here Sunday June 15.

Joe Kirk, LaSalle College coach, who selected and will manage the Middle Atlantic District squad announced his selections following the Middle Atlantic District metric championships at the Philadelphia Naval Base two days ago.

The Middle Atlantic District swimmers, seven men and seven women, will meet picked teams from the South Atlantic District AAU and the New York-New Jersey Metropolitan District.

Maxwell "Mickey" Vogt, Newark A. C., coach of the New York-New Jersey Metropolitan District team; Jim Campbell, aquatic director at the Walter Read Army Medical Center, Washington, D. C., coach of the South Atlantic District women's team; and Walter Hurley, coach of the Casey-Lakers Club, Baltimore and coach of the South Atlantic men's team will make their team selections at a later date.

Verdeur, holder of many world and national championships and national intercollegiate records for the breaststroke and the individual medley relay, will swim in the 150-yard breaststroke and the team medley event at Shawnee.

Also named for the Middle Atlantic District men's team are: Walter Beradell, Norristown, breaststroke; William Myers, Norristown, Fred Ruppenthal, York, Pa., and Joe McLone and Bruce deForrest, Philadelphia, freestyle; Sarah Johnson, Philadelphia, backstroke and Chris Keller, Philadelphia, three-meter diving. All of them are champions.

Matthews May Sign For Marciano Bout

Seattle (AP) — Harry "Kid" Matthews' manager said yesterday "I expect to sign Matthews for a 'Rocky' Marciano bout within five days."

Manager Jack Hurley made the comment after Matthews' decisive 10-round victory Monday night over Rex Layne, Utah heavy-weight, at Portland.

Agreement

Hurley has an agreement with Layne's manager, Marv Jensen, for a rematch within 60 days but it seemed probable such arrangements would be held up until something definite is heard about a Marciano fight.

Matthews, at 163½, was out-weighted 15 pounds by the Lewiston, Utah, fighter.

Zaharias Resting After Operation

Beaumont, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Mildred "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias, 37, voted The Associated Press "Woman Athlete of the Half Century," said yesterday she wasn't "feeling to chipper" after an operation.

The hospital said she was resting well, and "Babe" managed a smile.

She said she had been found to be "a little bit anemic" of all things. She has been given sedatives since the operation Monday for removal of a hernia.

Ministerium Elects Two To Faculty

Buck Hill Falls—At the 205th annual convention of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania in the Inn at Buck Hill Falls yesterday two prominent clergymen of the United Lutheran Church were elected to the faculty of the Theological Seminary at Philadelphia.

They were Rev. Henry H. Bagger, D.D., 58, of Lancaster, Pa., former president of the Pittsburgh senate and Rev. Edmund A. Steimle, 45, of Cambridge, Mass., campus pastor of the Greater Boston area.

Dr. Bagger is slated to become president of the seminary when the institution board of directors meets on June 3. Dr. Steimle will become a professor in the department of practical theology.

Principal speaker at yesterday's second session was Rev. Paul C. Empe, D. D., of New York, who branded Communism a "religious monstrosity."

Dr. Empe, speaking to more than 700 delegates at the convention, declared that "the irony of Communism lies in the reckless sacrifices and risks those embracing it are willing to make."

"We Christians," he said, "fall far short of the reckless abandon with which Communists spend their lives in a perversion of the cause for which God made man."

"All men," he continued, "were created by God and as such had the capacity for God-given ideals. The tragedy is that the great masses who have this potential of reckless giving of self, manifest it in Communism."

Earlier in the convention, delegates had amended the constitution to allow the election of six lay women to the Board of Intermissions. This amendment makes possible for the first time in the 30-year history of the board the assumption of official status in the direction and administration of intermission activities by women.

This Sunday, C. A. Cook, representative of the Christian Home League will be the speaker.

Dr. J. L. Rumsey will be out of town May 24 through June 6, inclusive.—Adv.

You can swing it if you try

HAVE you, by any chance, been casting eyes at a Buick, and promising yourself that someday you will take the Big Step and have one all your own?

Let us whisper something to you. The "big step" isn't big at all.

We know that's true, because such a high percentage of present Buick owners traded in a car tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field."

So why not set your sights on this star performer?

Why not enjoy big-car comfort—big-car power—big-car prestige for your money?

There's one of these lively lovelies waiting for you to come in and try it.

Get the feel of its mighty Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head. You could pay $300 to $400 more for a car that doesn't match its horsepower.

Get the feel of Dynaflo Drive*, that lets you ride relaxed—feeds a silken flow of power—and at the same time cuts down on upkeep costs, by protecting the engine, the rear end, and even the tires, from driving strains.

Get the feel of a ride that cost a million dollars and more for controls of end-sway and side-roll and vertical "throw"—for X-bracing the frame and V-bracing the torque-tube keel—for a total of 15 ride-engineering features.

One thing you'll know for sure when you've tried it. This car wasn't "built to a price." It's a Buick through and through.

But the fact remains that—when you check the price of a Buick SPECIAL against the price tags on so-called "low-priced cars"—you'll find out you can swing it if you really want to.

And brother, will that make your family happy!
